Why the Kidneys and Liver Are Responsible for Impure Blood and How the Life Current Can Be_Kept Pure.

Pure.

It is a well known fact that to have good health you must have pure blood. There is nothing more essential than that the life current should be fee from all impurities, so that it can complete its circuit of the system to give vital force to the body and activity to the brain.

How Can Pure Blood Be

Mow Can Fure Blood Be Obtained?

To begin with, iet us see how the blood circulates. We have in the average sized person about eight-quarts of this flittle. It is manufactured from the food we daily cansume by a chemical process of nature. She selects only that part which after digestion is found to answer the purpose.
